Leaving Kindle Unlimited

The Time Writer Series is leaving Kindle Unlimited (KU).

Why am I leaving KU?

I want to be able to reach readers who don't use Amazon, offer fabulous sales (such as the new release deal in my shop), and allow my eBooks into your local library. With the exclusivity agreement with KU, all eBooks must be purchased through Amazon. I cannot offer them for sale or free on any other platform. I will be starting a Patreon next month and one of the membership levels will include my eBooks. The eBooks will continue to be available for purchase through Amazon.

If I'm not in KU, how can you receive my books?

Here are some options:

- Buy directly from me with a Preorder/Purchase through my shop. I will offer books in my shop with an early release date.
- Kobo Plus is subscription based, much like Kindle Unlimited, without the exclusivity clause
- Purchase eBooks through other online retailers, including Amazon. It's not being pulled from Amazon, but being removed from the subscription based KU.
- Join my ARC team when I put a call out and receive the eBook for free and leave a review at online retailers, Bookbub, and Goodreads
- Request through your local library
- Join my Patreon (more information will be released next month)

How much longer will they be in KU?

If you've started The Time Writer series in Kindle Unlimited and haven't finished it, add the books to your library today and read whenever you're ready. As long as you add it prior to the last day, you will have it in your library.

Here are the dates for removal:

The Notebook: December 11, 2023

The March: December 11, 2023

The Hunt: January 2, 2023
